Re: Central Florida Water Initiative Regional Water Supply Project Consideration

Dear XXX:

The CFWI Regional Water Supply Plan ("CFWI RWSP") contains an assessment of projected water demands and potential sources of water to meet these demands through 2035. Thank you for your entity's participation in the development process and ensuring the CFWI RWSP is balanced, addresses the water supply related issues of the region and provides a framework to meet the water needs of the CFWI RWSP Area through 2035.

In addition to the previously approved regional priority alternative water supply projects, the CFWI Steering Committee and the applicable Water Management Districts are encouraging entities to propose new regional strategies and alternative water supply projects for potential funding in FY 2017/2018. In order for new proposed projects to be reviewed and recommended for potential regional funding, proposed project information must be submitted to the CFWI by November 21, 2016. Please note that if you sent in an application earlier this year for a project that was not included as one of the twenty previously approved regional priority alternative projects, your application will be considered as part of this cycle.

Please visit www.cfwiwater.com/application to access the current application. Additional information regarding the alternative water supply projects or options can also be found at the cfwiwater.com website. Completed applications, and any questions or comments, should be sent to Craig Varn at cvarn@mansonbolves.com.

Again, we thank you for your entity's participation in the CFWI RWSP process.

Sincerely,

Ryan Matthews
Chair, Central Florida Water Initiative Steering Committee
